5th ANNUAL SUDBURY CANADA DAYS TO BE HELD AUG. 11-12

Old-time pastimes is again the theme of the fifth annual Sudbury Canada Days in Bethel on Aug. 11-12. The summer event sponsored by the Bethel Historical Society is intended to focus on the heritage of the last 200 years with a wide variety of events featured. Bethel was known as Sudbury Canada from 1768 to 1796 since soldiers from Sudbury, Mass., had been granted land in the wilds of Maine by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for service in the ill-fated campaign to conquer Canada in 1690. The name identifies the name of the town in Massachusetts from which these soldiers came and the military exploit in which they participated.

Events will begin on Saturday at 1 p. m. and continue through the day. They will include a children's parade, flower show, historical film series, old time children's games, craft demonstrations and exhibits, an art show, horseshoe pitching competition, croquet tournament, a log driver's bean supper, a concert at Middle Intervale Meeting House and an old time variety show. Except for the concert most events will take place in or near the Dr. Moses Mason House on Broad Street in Bethel.

Those seeking additional information should call the Society at 324-2908.

CHAMBER MEETS ON SIDEWALK THIS WEEK

As the Town Office was not open at the start of this week's Chamber of Commerce meeting, Executive Director Rick Whitney called the meeting to order on the Main Street sidewalk. Appropriately the directors discussed the possibility of hosting an evening meeting of the business community to implement a sidewalk improvement project. The directors reviewed the Chamber's participation in Mollyockett Day and felt that the Chamber should become more involved in this important event next year through a Chamber float, activities for children and perhaps sponsor other events. The Chamber currently is responsible for several displays and bulletin boards in the area. These displays will be upgraded and maintained on a regular basis to inform the public and benefit the membership. There was continued discussion on a new brochure and area map.

The next meeting is scheduled for July 31 at 7:30 at the Town Office.

MOLLYOCKETT DAY CLASSIC FOOT RACES SUCCESSFUL

The Bethel Outing Club's foot races held Saturday, July 21, were reported a tremendous success by the many spectators and the 111 contestants who turned out to take part. The foot races, collectively named the "Mollyockett Day Classic"; and co-sponsored by The Bethel Mall, Bonnama Pottery, Prim's Rexall Pharmacy, and Groan & McGurn, were opening events in the annual Mollyockett Day, which has become a tradition benefiting the Bethel Lions Club and its service to the community. The events included a one mile race, open to youngsters 14 years and younger, a 5 kilometer and a 10 kilometer race. As the 5 Km and 10 Km were run nearly concurrently and the figure "8" course weaved through the village streets crossing at the Bethel Common, the spectators were afforded unusually ample viewing.

The first 75 registrants were provided T-shirts by the sponsors. In an awards ceremony following the races, each contestant received a ribbon. In addition the overall top three men and women finishers in the 5Km and 10 Km were awarded commemorative decorative tiles. They were—5 Km: 1. John Titus, Upton, 17:04; 2. Roger Foster, Harrison, 17:13; 3. John Nichols, Bridgton, 17:17; 1. Iie, Tina Buffington and Wendy Buffington, 22:27; 3. Susan Brooks, Randolph, N. H., 23:45; 10 Km: 1. Matt Isham, Bethel, 34:07 (record); 2. Kevin McDonald, Lovell, 34:41; 3. A. Leo LaChance, West Sumner, 34:57; 1. Rose Prest, Bethel, 38:48; 2. Linda Gagnon, Sweden, 40:07; 3. Marie Watts, Bethel, 40:57. The overall best finishers in the one mile race were: Tony Rau, Weeks Mills, 5:39 (record) and Wendy Buffington, Lovell, 6:04 (record).

Finally, an award to the first registrant went to Rudy Kirth, of Bethel, for the youngest, Anna Cohen, 3, Rumford Center; for the oldest, Joe Aubin, 56, Hampden; for the competitor from furthest away, Mee-Hum Yoon, Korea. Awards to the first Bethel finishers in the 5 Km and 10 Km went to Bruce Barth and Matt Isham.

Rebuilding of the Meadowbrook Bridge on the West Bethel Flat Road near the Bethel/Albany line is scheduled to start Monday, Aug. 20 and be completed by Labor Day, according to District 7 (Dixfield) MDOT engineer Norm Worthing. FIREWOOD

High St., West Paris

Seat in by Viva Whitman:

What a beautiful day this Sunday has turned out to be! Couldn't have gotten a better one if we had ordered it.

I'm afraid I didn't keep track of Russell very well this past week as I was in Lewiston baby-sitting my Granddaughter. Got tired, but enjoyed the week with her. She didn't keep calling for her Mommy, which helped a lot and of course, with her Father coming and going to work as usual, she was a good girl and we had lots of fun. It is so interesting to watch the expressions on a child's face as they play and help them to learn to pretend.

We went out to eat one night during her Father's supper break and I got her dressed up to go. She was all excited to go eat with Daddy and everyone at the store, where he works, loves to see Courtney coming. She likes them all and has a smile for each and everyone.

Courtney and Grandma went for a few walks with Courtney in the stroller and all the folks sitting out in the sun or shade waved to her, so she liked that too. I got my exercise trying to keep up with her, but she doesn't get into things she shouldn't very much.

Courtney was told that her Mother was at school for a few days and would be home then, so she listened real well. However, when Friday came and she knew her Mother would be coming home, she didn't want to take her nap so well. She did though and had just gotten up when her Mother and friend Debbie got there. They had been to Husson College for the week to get credits for their teaching certificates. They have to get so many credits in so many years and this was a chance to get some of them. Wyoming said the last two days were especially interesting on Word Processing.

I heard from Russell one day and he was going to Grange that night at West Paris; that was Thursday night. He had gone to Franklin Grange at Bryant Pond on Monday night and to the five or six point meeting on Wednesday at West Summer, so you see that he didn't stay at home. I could see where he had gotten more foam gum around the trailer and put hay over it to help hold the dirt while the seeds grow. He says the garden up above is doing pretty good, so maybe some of our work won't have been in vain. By

ACTIVITIES OF THE MIDDLE INTERVAL MEETING HOUSE SOCIETY

A report from the membership committee of the Middle Interval Meeting House Society indicates a very successful membership drive during the Mollycodd Day festivities. The Society wishes to welcome P. H. Chadbourne of Bethel as its latest life member. A special "thank you" goes to Edwin Gayer of Paris Hill for her part in increasing the membership role both at Paris Hill and at Bethel. Anyone who wishes to become a member in the Society and participate in its activities may receive more information by contacting the Society's secretary, Mrs. Geraldine Howe. The committee also wishes to thank all who donated articles to the white elephant table and special thanks to Dr. Stanley Howe for permitting the use of the front lawn of the Moses Mason House.

A new supply of stationery, showing the latest sketch of the Meeting House, drawn by Helen Morton, has been received from the printers and is available from the the looks of the sunburn on his legs, he has been out in the sun anyway. He decided to dye some short pants and try wearing them to see if it would help his skin look better. Maybe it will when he gets over his sunburn and speaking of that, I look like a lobster this morning as we went with Peggy to visit with Myrna and Bernard White at their camp on Thompson Lake Sunday. Peggy is home on extended leave right now and plans to enjoy herself all she can. She has spent part of this last week visiting friends in New Hampshire before coming home to her daughter in West Bethel. She had been down to see Russell before I got home and had left the invitation to go with her on Sunday, so we got ready and went. What a beautiful day we had; took a grand tour of Thompson Lake in Whitey's and Myrna's new boat and it was a grand ride with the wind whipping through one's hair unless it was tied down. I don't have any to lose, so tied a scarf around my hair to keep it intact. Got an idea that is why my face is rather red as I burn from the wind more than the sun. In the late afternoon, Whitey cooked chicken for us all and we had a beautiful feast. Myrna fixed her special bread to go with the chicken. Peggy had provided a macaroni salad and chips, also brownies and Russell and I took sandwich material along as well as some cookies, so none of us needed any supper later on in the evening.

Now it is back to the grindstone and do what has been put off while we had fun. Isn't that always the way life turns out? What do you suppose will happen this week? At this point, I'm sure I don't know, but expect to be busy doing this and that as usual and probably all you nice folks out there will be doing the same. Good luck.

treasurer, Louise Annis. She has also indicated that the Society's Endowment Fund has been established at the Bethel Savings Bank. Checks may be made out to the Middle Interval Meeting House Endowment Fund. All contributions are tax deductible.

President Suzanne Fiske has announced that the next meeting of the Society will be on Monday evening, Aug. 6, at 7 o'clock. She is requesting that all members and friends of the Society make a special effort to attend. Another date to mark on your calendar is Saturday, Aug. 11, 1984—when there will be a food sale and the annual concert. More information on these two activities will be forthcoming.

NOTES FROM

Evans Notch

White Mountain National Forest

The exceptionally healthy populations of black flies and mosquitoes on the Evans Notch Ranger District of the White Mountain National Forest have started to decline. For those families that like to hike and not fight the bugs, it is time to take to the woods. Whether it is an afternoon walk, day hike, or a weekend camping trip, hiking trails, backcountry shelters, and District campgrounds are ready for your use.

Here are some reminders in planning your hike. Groups should always plan a hike which is not too hard for any one member. Check the maps and guide books or ask someone who knows the area. This may be your best insurance against an unpleasant trip. Before leaving home, discuss what your plans are so that everyone going knows what to expect. Set up a system for keeping together and accounting for one another throughout the trip. Don't forget to let a neighbor know where you are going in case an emergency on the home front occurs.

Your family pack should contain a few basic items such as: a map, compass, whistle, small flashlight, band aids, ace bandage, and sweater or shirt for each hiker. Other items may be added as you prefer and as you gain experience. For beginners, don't be embarrassed by your inexperience as even professional guides were at one time beginners.

While on your hike, take the time to look around and learn about the area. You'll most likely find cascading brooks and ledges with panoramic views. Note these for future trips. Some hikers revisit the same area each year; continue to make discoveries; and build upon their knowledge of the outdoors.

The first steps may be the hardest. Try a short hike, perhaps one mile, for a starter. Do what your family enjoys; peak climbing and long distance hikes are not for everyone. Please call or visit our Bethel office for assistance in planning your trip. Have a safe and enjoyable hike.

In other District news, the Spruce Hill Trail has been relocated. The trail now begins at the East Royce Trailhead parking lot on State Highway 113, just north of the old trailhead. Asphalt road surfaces will be re-

— Mrs. Collista Mergan, Corres. —

From my early childhood I have always been fond of the persistent purring of water. Perhaps this is due to the fact that I lived by a flowing river. Each stream has its own personality. Some are clear and bright, flowing purposefully to a lake. Another may be devious and hidden, seeming to flow along, just because it has nothing better to do. While a third can be filled with chattering, leaping through protected grassy banks to lower limits of meadows. I can sit for long periods of time watching currents make ripples, twinkling around boulders or trapped logs. Many times I have walked down the middle of a stream while fishing for brook trout or I've perched on a rock to enjoy the warmth in the sun, after a swim in the old swimming hole.

The path through the field to that favorite spot

Was trampled all summer till fall; Now beside that dear path the weeds grow high.

As high as we once were tall.

—Loise Pinkerton Fritz

This morning early, I suddenly decided I'd like to take my boat and spend a few hours on the ponds and river. So I interrupted the parties of the daisies and buttercups along the shore to unfasten my boat and be off.

The sky was overcast, soft gray, and a white throat was singing from a perch near by.

Once on my way, it was like stepping out of one world into another. Like a rubber band that stretches only so far and then before you have time to realize you are snapped back again.

At the mouth of the Samborn River I saw my first Cedar Wax Wings of the summer. Before our big elm was cut at the end of the house, they visited often. I have pictures showing their beaks filled with string, as they nest-built.

Along the river the wild pink roses were blooming in conspicuous profusion.

Steeple bush, or hardhack, common of this area are in flower, the pink and white plumes were poking up from the lush green grasses, on their tough stems.

I loitered along the way and listened for the river gossip.

Leaving a secluded spot where one swamp candle-flower, the tallest I had ever seen, with its slender spike of small starlike flowers, lighting my way, I could see a dragonfly. The hawk of the insect world was patrolling the shore, darting through dancing mosquitoes, using its basket legs to scoop them up. Then its swarth closed in again. Its abdomen flashed brilliant blue in certain light.

One came to perch beside me in the boat. Its eyes nearly meet on top of its head and contain many, many facets, each one, six sided. Its ball-and-socket-type joint between the head and chest allows great rotation of the head so it can see in several directions at once—the proverbial characteristic of school teachers. It was friendly and stayed for several minutes.

The last few years I have missed the Bitterns which I often saw in the marsh. This is a strange bird, pale-green legs, mottled feathers, and a habit of standing with its head held stiffly upward, mimicking the plant growth. Its call has been described in many ways. Most agree it does sound like the sucking of an old wooden pump. I have missed that most. I wonder after many years here why it completely vanished.

Sticks and branches by the banks were ensnared so caused the water to gossip and warble then to run hidden under a bridge of logs and sod.

All the way the grass and padded greenness of moss seemed softer than elsewhere.

A breeze came gently up the river and a cloud wept, bouncing tears on the water. I wasn't alarmed but my watch told me "Time to leave."

I watched the swallows performing overhead, enjoying their freedom of the sky.

The rain drops continued, a truck, passed with children laughing and shouting. They waved gaily at me and rolled on to the other side of the valley. I climbed the bank happy with my two hours on the water.

Saturday afternoon brought me a few hailstones clattering on the roof. We were happy that there were few. They aren't needed. The men at the farm were lucky for they had just driven into the barn with their load of hay when the rain started.

Today (Sunday) I picked my first raspberries. A porcupine had made a visit before I did and had broken down some of the bushes, the dear? friend.

Because of the wide-scale commitment to the forestry industry, Bethel was chosen as a project area for the White Pine Blister Rust program. State contractor Rex Waite and his assistant will be inspecting white pine stands during July and August, treating problems as they are found. He will make every effort to contact property owners before making his inspection.

The Cole Block

While the major item of last week's Selectmen's meeting was cable TV, important decisions were made shaping the direction that Cole Block renovations will take. Regarding the exterior, a majority of the Board voted to follow the recommendations of the architect hired to assist the Selectmen and the Facilities Committee and contract to have solid color pigmented stain in the colors of cream and dark brown painted on the Main Street facade. With respect to the interior, the Selectmen unanimously voted to proceed with interior renovations recommended to the Board by the architect and Facilities Committee. This plan starts on the south side office spaces, concentrating first on a "core" bathroom facility that will accommodate the office space and the Town Office needs as well. The next area will be the construction of a meeting room for municipal activities behind the rental office spaces. Because renovation of an old building brings surprises with every rip-out, funding for these interior projects are built on a labor plus material cost basis that permits weekly control of spending amounts on each facet of work. The Facilities Committee will meet tonight (Thursday, July 26) with the architect and John Brown to begin plans for renovation of the space occupied by the "Citizen."

The Board of Selectmen will meet in regular session Monday, Aug. 6, in the Town Office meeting room at 7 p. m.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Friends: You still have a few days to put in those late peas for September harvest. If you did not try them last year, just ask "Lindy" Lowell if they are fit to eat.

When a man spends a lifetime growing vegetables for market he sees some strange things happen. Back in 1923 or '24 someone gave us a dozen tomato plants of a large yellow variety.

It was June 10 and we were too busy hoeing and weeding to have the time to fix a piece for a few plants. We put them in on one end of a half acre of John Baer where we had lost a few plants and forgot about them.

Late in August we got some good ripe yellow ones and a few extra good red and yellow striped ones and ate them all.

This year I have some yellow ones set out here and there to see what will happen.

Sincerely yours,
The Old Market Gardener

U. S. - AUSTRALIA MEET - OLD FRIENDS REUNITED

Excited and filled with anticipation of seeing friends of 40 years ago, plans were laid by Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Cummings for the week's visit of John (Jack) and June Thorpe of Perth, West Australia.

During W.W. II, and the world at war, Alanson was sent to West Australia, while with the U. S. Navy. A lonely man and half way around the world, he attended a Masonic meeting, where he met this young friend and his family who did much to help him through the weeks and months away from his wife and daughter, Cathryn, in West Paris, Maine, who were doing their "bit" on the home front.

Through these 40 years they have written and kept in touch, dreaming of seeing each other again.

Jack married, raised and educated his two sons, Greg and Murray, and was successful in his own business, so they decided on a tour, to the U.S.A., among other places. He left the tour in New York and flew to Maine to see his wartime sailor friend from Maine.

He kept the Cummings in touch by phone—and Sunday night July 15 they were met at the Portland Airport, with Cathryn, the chauffeur.

The week went all too fast and

DEMOCRATIC TOWN COM. TO MEET JULY 31

There will be a Bethel Democratic Town Committee meeting on Tuesday, July 31, at 7 p. m. at the home of Chairman Paul McGuire on Winter Street. Rep. Jeff Mills will report on his week at the Democratic Convention in San Francisco, and plans for upcoming activities will be discussed. The meeting is open to area Democrats or interested independents.

trips out short as June was not equal to the long drives.

They did do a trip to Skowhegan on Tuesday, July 17, to see and meet with Margaret Chase Smith and see her beautiful home and library.

This busy lady who just 20 years ago that day had announced her candidacy for President of the United States, gave them 1½ hours of her time, even though she was in demand for T.V. interviews about a lady Vice President etc.

A highlight of his visit was the special Masonic communication and supper held by Granite Lodge in West Paris, to greet and honor Brother Thorpe.

Several short trips were taken to show off Maine's lovely countryside.

The tour of Penley's mill in West Paris, which is one of three in the United States, was of interest to them on Thursday, following an interview with the Lewiston "Sun" reporter, Jane Chandler.

Their guide was Bill Herrick, a friend. He gave them over an hour to see the making of the clothespins from beginning to end. This mill puts out 700,000 clothespins a day and 250,000 springs. This business has been in the same family for approximately four generations.

Fannie worked there about five years, 1948 to 1953, before moving to Connecticut. Her former boss, Junior Farr, greeted them and gave the Thorpes some small neatly packaged pins to take home.

They were the most gracious guests. Everything was O.K. and the best ever according to them. Jack had his "steak and eggs" and tea every morning. He found his first real gravy at R.F.D. #1 cafe, and the only good roast lamb at Martha's.

He was most impressed by the people. They were all so courteous and kind in every way, especially in Maine.

Sunday after church the family gathered at Cathryn and Cleve Lovejoy's for dinner and to greet the guests. Cleve's organ music and the singing impressed them so much, they plan to buy an organ as soon as they get home.

They left 4 p. m. Monday from the Portland Jeppert. They were to go to Chicago, San Francisco, Honolulu. They will have five days in Hong Kong then onto Singapore, where June will unpack her fur coat that she has had in her suitcase all the while (one month in U.S.A.) as winter will be there at their home when they arrive July 31.

Prayers are being said for their safe return from their 45,000 mile trip.

These two people were certainly wonderful ambassadors for their home country West Australia.

Walking With Jesus Christ

"Nobody loves me, everybody hates me, I think I'll eat worms and die." A little child's lament—guess nobody ever told her that Jesus loves her.

Then there's the tombstone epitaph—"Behold and see as you pass by—as you are now—so once was I. As I am now—so you must be, prepare for death and follow me."

The presumption here is that he lies below in bodily form—yes, his body is buried—but, where did he go?

The Bible says we have a body, soul and spirit. "There is a natural body and there is a spiritual body" 1 Cor. 15:44—I Thess. 5:23. We know we have a natural body—it is a house—we live in it—subjection to wearing out, accidents, illness—etc. It has a head—heart, brains—arms and legs.

The spiritual body is invisible and forever. It consists of soul and spirit residing in our natural body until termination of bodily functions. To identify the soul and spirit we will simply state it as—the spirit "knows"—1 Cor. 2:11—and is capable of God consciousness and communication with God. Prov. 20:27—Ps. 18:28. Whereas the soul is the seat of affections, desires, emotions and the will of man. Math. 11:29—26:28. John 12:27.

The tombstone inscription says: "prepare for death and follow me." The Christians admonition is: "Prepare for life and follow me." There's a big distinction here—Jesus said ever so many times—"follow me"—Luke 18:22—"and thou shalt have treasure in heaven." John 14:6—"I am the way, the truth and the life." That big word "life." He is the "Life" which leath unto eternal glory—heaven.

In opposite—the word death means "utter darkness." Ecclesiastes 2:15—"the fool walketh in darkness."

There are so many foolish enough as not to read the Bible, which if taken seriously will give understanding when we ask Christ to be the Lord of our lives—being willing to follow him—it will then be that God's Holy Spirit will join with our spirit and we will "know."

And, by the way our bodies will rise—we will be lifted from our graves—the sea—whatever in bodily form—I Cor. 15:51-58—Matt. 29:31 etc. The redeemed, Christians will rise in glory while the foolish will be cast into the lake of fire, Rev. 20:11-15.

If not yourself—how about your little boy or girl?

"SHARE THE GOOD NEWS" VACATION CHURCH SCHOOL -1984

The United Methodist Church and the West Parish Congregational Church-UCC of Bethel will be holding Vacation Church School together, the week of Aug. 12 through 17, meeting each evening from 6 to 8:30 at the Methodist Church with classes for pre-school through adult.

The theme of VCS is "Share the Good News." As participants experience God's good news for themselves, they can become powerful witnesses in evangelism efforts of the church. "Share the Good News" uses Bible stories to show the love, power, and activity of God in the world.

Planning and organizing efforts are underway for a wonderful week of fellowship, fun, and sharing together for all ages through worship, songs, and activities. If adults would like to volunteer to help with teaching, story telling, music, crafts or refreshments, your help would be welcomed. Everyone is invited to come and have a good time, and bring a friend. For further information, please call Sally Downing at 824-2010 or contact Jane Chandler.

CONGRATULATIONS GOULD!!!!

The Bethel Area Health Center personnel would like to congratulate the winners of the float competition! To Gould Academy who publicly accepted our challenge we say that you did indeed rise from the ashes, like Phoenix and we, at the Health Center are now publicly eating our words. It was loads of fun, we thought our float was excellent and next year we'll try again. The community spirit that was evident was heart-warming.

IS THERE A CAVALRYMAN IN YOUR FAMILY TREE?

Did an ancestor or relative follow the cavalry guidon in the winning of the West? Did your grandfather ride with Jeb Stuart, or in one of Sheridan's vaunted regiments in the War Between the States? Or an uncle serve with Pershing's troopers on the Mexican Border? Do you have a family connection with a cavalryman—regular, militia, or volunteer—who served between 1776 and 1945, either in peace or wartime? The U. S. Horse Cavalry Association will record this service and a brief biography in its permanent archives, the only central reference source for information on the history and traditions of the horse cavalry.

USHCA is a non-profit organization of former troopers and supporters of the cavalry's contribution to the history of our country. There is no charge for the registration of former cavalrymen, nor is the listing limited to relatives of members. To obtain the registration form, or for information on membership write the U. S. Horse Cavalry Association, Box 6253, Fort Bliss, Texas 79906, or in Bethel, contact Lt. Gen. James D. Alger, U. S. Army-Ret.

MRS. MORTON WRITES FROM ISRAEL

"The Citizen" has received the following communication from Mrs. Ann Hastings Morton of Hanover, who is currently in Israel participating in the U. S. Department of Education's 1984 Full-bright Seminar on Ancient and Modern Israel. The seminar is scheduled to conclude on Aug. 3. Mrs. Morton teaches world history and science at Rumford Junior High School.

Written July 13, 1984

Jerusalem - The 22 hour trip which started with me boarding a 13 passenger Beechcraft owned by Bar Harbor Airlines and ending on an 85' runway near Tel Aviv was only a prelude to the delights awaiting me in Israel. As a group of 20 American Educators here to learn about and write curriculum for the teaching of this Middle Eastern country, we are being given the red carpet treatment. The first week was spent at a kibbutz-owned guest house in the Judean Hills about 10 miles from Jerusalem. An adjustment time to get over the effects of the trip and adjust to the climate and food proved very necessary. We were told that everyone would fall prey to digestive problems, and one by one we proved them right. Our lectures and travel to Jerusalem and nearby areas started right away. Most people speak several languages, so communication is no problem. Israeli and Arab children alike have picked up enough English to get their point across. They like to demonstrate their mastery of our language, much as we like to try out our limited Hebrew.

A walk through an Arab village one day by five of us resulted in three invitations to have coffee or a cold drink at Arab homes. It was the last day of Ramadan, a month-long fast, and everyone was dressed in bright colors and in a festive mood.

An evening meal and visit with families in a Druze village was a highlight of the trip. The preparations must have taken days, and the tables were absolutely sagging with the weight of close to 20 different kinds of food. Only the men ate with us, and we women had to be very careful not to shake hands with or sit beside the village religious leaders. The women sat in the kitchen, but we were able to entice some out after the meal for pictures. We went in small groups to other homes, and more food was brought out. We had to eat, or the host would be insulted. We learned a lot about these people from the college-age children who have been in the Army and are students at Haifa University.

We are encouraged to ask questions of any people we meet, and there are very interesting stories to learn. The more we learn, the more questions we have. Fortunately there are learned people in so many areas to help us. A Supreme Court judge, secretary general of the Knesset, and the archaeologist in charge of recent excavations in Old Jerusalem are only a few of the people who have spent many hours with us.

The Judean desert starts at the edge of Jerusalem, and water is very valuable here. It hasn't rained since March and won't until October, so areas without irrigation are very dry and barren. Goats and sheep forage all over, even in the city. Many people, languages and styles of dress and traditions blend into a fascinating culture. Every ride into the center of the city or walk through the Old City is an adventure.

Rather than trying to look alike in blue jeans and sneakers, each group tries to maintain its traditional dress and style of life. The variety of foods reflects this individuality as a falafel stand thrives near a new "MacDavid" in the New City of Jerusalem.

TEN BROAD STREET

Newry

— Miss Amy Hanscom, Corres. —

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Glover, Holms, and Karen Larkin, East Waterboro, spent the week end at their camp and called on Amy and Roger Hanscom.

Karlene Bachelder, Louise Tetley, Gilberte Seelye, Beatrice Lowell, Betsy Clark, Eleanor Davis, Nancy Wright and Olive Anderson went to Oxford Hills Lanes, South Paris, bowling, July 10. Karlene Bachelder was high scorer with Nancy Wright close second. The same group went to Rumford July 17. Karlene Bachelder was high with 104, Louise Tetley was second.

The subject of Pastor Hanscom's message Sunday morning was "On The Right Or The Left," with scripture readings from the first Psalm, Jeremiah 17:1-18 and Deuteronomy 11. Area Churches have been invited to join the Newry Community Church in a picnic and hymn sing at the Church Aug. 19, at 5:30 p. m. Each family is to bring a picnic lunch. Following lunch on the church grounds the group will gather in the church for a hymn sing and words of assurance from area clergymen. The United Methodist Church and United Church of Christ of Bethel, the West Bethel Union Church and the Locke Mills Union Church are expected to attend and other area churches are invited. The regular morning service at Newry will be held at 9 a. m.

Many thanks to relatives and friends who made my birthday special.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brooke and children, Augusta, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Wight, Saturday. Other family members joined them for supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Bessey, Elkhardt, Ind., and Mrs. Ava Bessey, Rumford Corner, called on Mrs. Freda Robertson, recently.

Mrs. Freda Robertson had supper with the Besseys at Rumford Corner one night last week.

The Selectmen met Friday morning, July 20, at the Town Clerk's Office. A Municipal Quit Claim Deed was signed to cover a Tax Lien on the Powell property to correct a former release. A Treasurer's Warrant was prepared to pay current bills and $10,000 was invested in Money Market Funds. A letter was prepared to send Raymond Glover, President of the Oxford Hills Area Development Commission, re: work the Selectmen felt should be done on Route 26 in Newry. A letter will also be sent to Maine D.O.T. and copies will be sent to our Legislators. A bill was sent to the Town of Hanover for one-half of the cost incurred by the Town in establishing the Septic Waste Disposal Site. A letter was sent to the Rumford-Mexico Sewerage District asking for a formal agreement, allowing Newry to use the Rumford-Mexico plant on an emergency basis during the winter months. The Selectmen are asking that a 2.7 mile stretch of Route 26, beginning at a point near a sharp curve by the home of Freda Robertson, continuing northerly to a point near the Branch Brook Bridge be considered for reconstruction at this time. This section is narrow and winding and the pavement rough and crooked. Canadian traffic is very heavy during the summer months, as well as heavy trucks the year around.

Mrs. Geraldine (Pierce) DeShon of Oxford called on Mr. and Mrs. Vatcher Wednesday and had coffee and cake. She was one of our North Paris girls. We had a nice visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher went to Massachusetts Friday. They called on Robert Anderson Sr. in Burlington, went to the cemetery in Woburn and then took Joe's mother, Mrs. Fannie Vatcher, 93, and his aunt, Mrs. Grace Lane, 90, of Gloucester nursing home to the Salem Rehabilitation Centre to have a birthday party for their sister, Mrs. Flora Gozal, who was 95 years young on that day, July 20. There were 16 present for Joe's raspberries and real cream and a birthday cake made by Eveline in honor of the three sisters who have birthdays near together.

It has been a long time since the three sisters have been together at one time. Mrs. Vatcher is blind but she enjoyed the party and they each had bananas to take home to eat later. No icing on the cake as they are diabetic but had a cream filling. Joe's sister, Mrs. Fannie Whitten came home with Joe and Eveline to stay until July 29 when her nephew Kenneth Vatcher of Lynn will bring his three children to the home of his mother, Rhoda Vatcher, while their mother will be hospitalized. A busy day and a hot one for the Vachers, and they were glad to get back to North Paris.

Many young folks were on our road this Sunday morning, maybe from some children's camp as a large van came along in back. Some were riding their bicycles and others were walking beside theirs.

The Lewiston "Sun" put up some boxes for daily and Sunday papers on our street. Lawrences didn't get a box, so they had no paper for a whole week, and it was paid for in advance. Someone shipped up.

The supper committee has been busy at the hall this week preparing for their monthly supper on July 28. Strawberry short cakes for dessert.

Eveline and Joe have some beautiful Chinese lilies in bloom. The blossom is about six inches long, pink on the outside and white inside and they look like they were made of wax. They last only four or five days but we admire them and enjoy them.

Eveline went to a doctor's office in Bethel for her asthma shots Monday.

a. Type of Application: Lease, Amendment of License and Transfer, in Part, of License

b. Projects Nos.: 2375-004 and 8277-000

c. Date Filed: April 30, 1984

h. Contact Person: William J. Madden, Bishop, Liberman, Cook, Pincell and Reynolds, 1200 Seventeenth Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036

i. Comment Date: Aug. 27, 1984

j. Description of the Proposed Action: International Paper Company (Licensee) and Otis Hydroelectric Company (Transferee) jointly propose to transfer the Otis Development, one of four developments under the license for Project No. 2375, to the Transferee.

The purpose of the transfer of part of the license is to enable the redevelopment of the project works at the Otis Development under more favorable financial terms. Such redevelopment has been previously authorized by the Commission under Project No. 2375, in concert with the proposed transfer.

Applicants request approval of the lease of the existing Otis powerhouse to the Transferee until completion of redevelopment of the new Otis powerhouse. The license for Project No. 2375 would also be amended to delete reference to the Otis Development since it then would become Project No. 8277. No change to the term of the license for Project No. 2375 would result from the proposed actions described above. The expiration date of Project No. 8277 would be the same as Project No. 2375.

Transferee has proposed to operate the newly designated Otis Project No. 8277 in accordance with the terms and conditions of the original license for Project No. 2375. Transferee is a general partnership organized under the laws of the State of Maine.

k. Purpose of Project: Energy produced by the Otis Project would be sold to Central Maine Power Company.

On Thursday of last week the "Lewis Playhouse" presented its first recital of the summer, choreographed and directed by Miss Becky Hanscom, the numbers included "Razzy Dazzle," "Easy Street," "Bippety Boppety Boo" and a special toe ballet by the director herself. The performers also included Davey Hanscom, Matthew Lewis and Jamie Lewis. None of these children except Becky had taken any lessons before Monday, so their professionalism was especially admired by their audience, who came by special invitation. Attending were: Clara Rolfe, Arthur and Ruth Gilbert, Dick and Jane Hosterman and Barbara Lewis. The recital was free, but refreshments were sold at a nominal cost. One audience member said that she would like to return to the Playhouse to see a play, but the Playhouse owner was not too thrilled at the prospect! The climax of the day came when Jane Hosterman presented each performer with a special bouquet of flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stowell and family of Jackman were guests of his parents, George and Harriett Stowell for the week end. They came for the Mollycoddle Day festivities on Saturday.

On Sunday, July 15, Rick and Barbara Lewis acted as hosts to the Bethel Gospel Center adult Sunday School picnic. The menu included shish-kebab and homemade ice cream. Twenty three people enjoyed both the warmth of the day and the warmth of the fellowship. Horseshoes, croquet and badminton were available, but most folks took advantage of chairs, hammocks and shade. Children's Center

The Center grounds are in the process of some changes: Jim Haskell has been busy replacing some old and rotting fence posts with new ones, mending the white picket fence, and repairing a few pieces of playground equipment. Owen Brown has reroofed much of the playground over the week end, and Jim plans to seed it with grass as soon as more preparation work is done. Some of the outdoor playtime is now spent beyond the Center boundaries, nearer the ball-field.

Thanks again to the generosity of the Bethel Inn, Tuesday's regular swim trip to the Songo Pond facilities is on as long as the weather co-operates!

On Thursday, the children and staff will take a walk out the Flat Road to pay a visit to Brenda and Macy Blaisdell. While there the ducks in the pond will be observed and lunchtime will be spent picnicking! This walk enables the children to become more aware of the community surrounding the Center and have fun while learning more about the world outside.

NOTES FROM THE
WOODSTOCK HISTORICAL SOC.

Thought for the week: "History repeats itself. That's one of the things wrong with history."—Clarence Darrow.

Ruby Emery of the Research Committee has written a small book on the Military in Woodstock compiled from Herbert Libby's notes. The following is a typical anecdote from the volume:

"March 31, 1910, C. B. Brooks says in regard to the old militia days he remembers Henry Packard as Captain in 1897 and Joseph Davis. At that time the company drilled in Joseph Whitman's field and for music, Melvin Whitman played the snare-drum, Lorenzo Davis, bass drum, and Stephen D. Davis the fife. They met to drill in May and Sept. and each man had to furnish his own gun and accoutrements. The arms were old fashioned. Men who did not come to drill were subject to fine. When they got through drilling they by custom fire a salute. He remembers going to a big muster or meeting of all Oxford County companies held once a year. This was at South Paris, on the spot where the fairgrounds now are, but then did not exist. . . . They had a moose there in a cage on exhibition."

And let us add a note on the national scene: In the midst of a Presidential Campaign we might pause to contemplate how little political matters have changed over the centuries. For example, in the Nineteenth Century the famous novelist Charles Dickens wrote a satire on the politics of his day in the novel "Bleak House." It sounds surprisingly like much of the maneuvering that goes on today:

"My Lord Boodle, of considerable reputation with his party, who has known what office is, . . . does not see to what the present age is tending. A debate is not what a debate used to be; even a Cabinet is not what it formerly was. He perceives with astonishment that, supposing the present Government to be overthrown, the limited choice of the Crown, in the formation of a new Ministry, would lie between Lord Coodle and Sir Thomas Doodle—supposing it to be impossible for the Duke of Foodle to act with Goodle, which may be assumed to be the case in consequence of the breach arising out of that affair with Hoodle. Then, giving the Home Department and the Lead-

THIS WEEK AT THE
MOSES MASON HOUSE

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the monthly meeting will be held on Thursday, Aug. 2, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House beginning at 7:30 p. m. Feature speaker of the evening will be Dr. Maurice Whitten, Professor Emeritus of Chemistry, University of Southern Maine who will speak on "Maine's Powder Mills." The first one in Maine was at Gorham established in 1818. Others followed until there were four in the state. The others were at North Buckfield, Camden and Warren. They were particularly important for the manufacture of gun powder during the Civil War. Dr. Whitten has been researching this topic for the past 18 years and his presentation promises to bring to light a little known Maine industry.

Dr. Whitten received his A.B. from Colby in 1945, an M.A. from Columbia and a Ph.D. from Ohio State. He received National Science Foundation fellowships in 1960 and 1963.

Anyone interested in attending this meeting is cordially invited to do so. Refreshments will follow the program.

Rotary Club News

The Bethel Rotary Club met at the Sudbury Inn for a luncheon meeting on July 24. The program was confined, primarily, to a review of financial and operational factors associated with Mollycoddle Day. In spite of the stress and strain involved, everyone has survived the workings of a most successful Mollycoddle Day. John Head gave an interim financial report to the members. This year's income is the best to date. John also has been busy coordinating affairs associated with the District Governor's visit to Bethel on Aug. 28, and the visit of the Group Study Exchange Team from England on Aug. 10-11. The program chairman for next week's meeting is Peter Calliouras. He will give his classification talk at that time. Visiting Rotarians and guests joining with the Club on Tuesday were: Chas. Feld, Marco Island, Fla.; Bill Lowther, Boonton, N. J.; Gil Robinson, Delaware; Joe Reidy, Tyngsboro, Mass.; J. Sonnen-schein, Washington, D. C.; J. Ros-covey II, Flemington, N. J.; Dave Hamilton, Oxford Hills; Al Carson, guest of Jim Delamater, and J. Salome, guest of Joe Reidy.

The Bethel Rotary Club wishes to thank all those persons who helped to make Mollycoddle Day a big success through auction donations and sales, the giving of time and labor, and the purchase of food from the concession stand. It was a great day and much appreciated.

East Stoneham

Gladys Kilgore, Corres.
Mrs. Sarah Grover was organist Sunday at the church services as Danny Barker and little daughter, Faith, were away for a few days.

We are all sorry to hear that Mrs. Paul McKee burnt her leg so badly, by spilling boiling water on it. A trained nurse comes every day and dresses it for her.

Mrs. Bob Tripp is having extensive repairs done on her house.

Mrs. Grace Nelson visited her nephew and family in Sweden, on Thursday.

Mrs. Hazel Allen of North Waterford and Delwin Merrill visited me Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Grover went to Boothbay to visit their daughter and family over the week end.

The Post Office has moved into the old school house, with Mrs. Cathy McAllister as postmistress. Kenzie Gordon has exchanged his truck for a car.

I joined the Friendly Senior Citizens and went by bus to Harpswell and Bailey's Island Tuesday. There were 44 of us. We all had a nice trip. We are lucky to have such a nice driver as Mr. Harriman, as he is very kind to the elderly.

The supper was well attended here Thursday night. Mrs. Mary Grover was in charge of it.

Mrs. Gladys Plummer and son, Don, went to Berlin, N. H., one day last week to visit her sister.

Everything is so lush and pretty now. The neighbors' flower gardens are in full bloom. Especially pretty were the Buck and Fox homes.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the three sponsors that helped on my car for the demolition derby: Bethel Auto Sales, Charlie's Chevrolet Station, and Unicorn Flower Shop.

NO MORE THAN TWO PEOPLE AT ONE TIME ON MOTORCYCLE

Motorcycle operators are reminded that there can be no more than two people riding on a motorcycle.

"Troopers enforcing the law are concerned that motorcycle operators seem not to be aware of the passenger riding requirements pertaining to those motorcycles designed to carry more than one person," said Colonel Allen H. Weeks, chief of the Maine State Police.

Weeks said Troopers have stopped motorcycles that were carrying, besides the operator, two passengers—with one of the passengers being a baby or a young child.

Maine law (Title 39, sec. 960) states: "passengers may ride only upon the permanent seating provided for them with no more than one passenger occupying each seat." Also passengers in a sidecar shall not exceed the number of permanent seats for which the sidecar has been designed and not more than two persons may ride in a sidecar.

DOROTHY KIMBALL MOORE

Dorothy Kimball Moore was born in Rumford Center, Maine, on June 3, 1899, and died in the Rumford hospital on July 18, 1984. She was the daughter of Wilder V. and Susan Graham Kimball and graduated from Stephens High School in Rumford. She came to Bethel over 60 years ago with her husband, Nahum P. Moore, who died in 1932. Survivors are a daughter, Barbara Moore Lucas of Bethel; a sister and brother, Evelyn Kimball and Wilder V. Kimball, both of Rumford Center; a granddaughter, Carolyn C. Veneire, and three great grandchildren, Susan, Paul and Christopher Veneire of Embden, Maine.

Memorial services were held Sunday afternoon at the Rumford Center Cemetery with Rev. Norman Rust officiating.

A Tribute

Dorothy Moore lived a busy and useful life. Her family ties were close and strong, and she was an excellent homemaker. Quick and skillful in her movements, in everything which she did she was highly capable. She loved such outdoor activities as picking blueberries on Whitecap or helping with various chores around the farm or in the woods. With her high spirits and keen sense of fun she was a splendid companion on such outings. All her life she enjoyed and took pride in the traditions of a Maine farm.

Dorothy was straightforward and direct but never unkind. Independent and self-reliant herself, she was always helpful and gentle with the elderly and the sick. She was a kind and generous neighbor; it seems to me that I never left her kitchen without a bag of cookies or a jar of cream for my Mother, and there were many others who experienced her kindness on a regular basis. She had many friends who valued her companionship, her quick mind and her strong true character. We shall miss her greatly. —Margaret Joy Tibbitts

BOY SCOUTS VOLUNTEER FOR WORK ON NATIONAL FOREST

Boy Scouts from Troop #565 of Bethel, volunteered their services to brush and maintain the Wheeler Brook Trail on the Evans Notch Ranger District of the White Mountain National Forest, June 26 and July 10. Troop #565's volunteer effort saved taxpayer dollars for trail maintenance and will enhance the Forest visitor's enjoyment of backcountry areas.

In 1972 Congress passed special legislation to enable interested citizens and groups to assist in the important conservation work of the United States Forest Service. Volunteers have played an important role on the Evans Notch Ranger District in resource protection and management. Volunteer activities include campground hosts, backcountry hosts, trail maintenance, and litter patrol. Scouts who participated in this most recent effort include: Jeff Lyon, Jeff Boyle, Chris Chapman, Tim Chapman, Brian Bachelder, Randy Coulombe, and Howard Kimball. Merit Badge Counselor Brenda Taylor led Troop #565 in this activity.

The troop will be awarded the Forest Service Certificate of Appreciation for their efforts and will continue with volunteer work on the National Forest in the future.
